

Eternal Voices

Urban styled music mixed with an old-school gospel flavor that shares REAL personal testimonies and guarantees a soul uplifting.

Eternal Voices was birthed Independence Day 2002. This group began with the goal of radically reaching out to others through powerful song testimonies and letting them know that the only way to live the life of their dreams is through God. Since the Eternal Voices began, they have had the privilege of sharing the stage with J. Moss, John P. Kee, Ayiesha Woods, Maurette Brown Clark, and Desmond Pringle. Their single "Author" from the "Better, Stronger, & Closer" cd project is played on many gospel radio stations. They have appeared on various television programs such as: WLTX's Friends at Five, CW-47's J.Juice TV, Preach the Word Worldwide Network, and The Best of the Low Country Jams.

Eternal Voices has won national recognition for Rhythm & Praise Song of the Year from the 2010 Urban Inspirational Awards for their song "Don't 'Cha Give Up" from the album "Better, Stronger, & Closer". They are also named the 2010 SC Music Award Gospel Recording Artist of the Year. The highlights of their ministry are the times they are allowed to sing for the homeless, imprisoned, persons in nursing homes, and other people who aren't as fortunate as most. The most important thing they hope for is that people desire a closer, more firm relationship with the Savior by lifting Him up and encouraging His people. The membership of Eternal Voices currently consists of four radically, anointed young people who all individually place God at the number one spot in their lives, CoreyJ, Tiffany, Siera, and Courtney.

EV's third album entitled "AddicTeD" is complete and will release January 29, 2011.
