

Krissy Gordon

Krissy Gordon has had vocal comparisons to Charlotte Church, Sheena Easton, Joan Baez and 80s R&B legend, Teena Marie, but music execs are suddenly realizing Krissy has the potential to leave her own legacy in the music world. With an angelic voice, Krissy is both distinctive and fascinating. While her music is uplifting and inspiring, the message of Krissy's music is beautifully and contemporaneously communicated as the light of God radiates from her and penetrates into the deepest part of mankind's soul -- compelling them to make a decision about the course of their destiny.

Krissy's first recorded project, "Windows to the Soul", is a 5-song EP of Contemporary Christian pop songs, flavored with note-worthy hints of R & B, soul, funk and gospel. Since its October 2006 release, the album has been topping the charts in the Funk, Pop, R&B, Country and Contemporary Christian genres. "Surrender" has recently hit No. 1 on the Christian artist unsigned music charts. "The Answer" was chosen as "music that heals" for the Hurricane Healing Project and earned Krissy the title of "Songwriter of the Month" by the Christian Songwriter's Network. Krissy was nominated as "The Best Vocalist Of The Month" by SingerUniverse, headed by veteran music publisher/A&R exec Dale Kawashima, President of Michael Jackson's ATV Music and a creative exec at Sony and Motown and as Indieheaven's Momentum Award Female Vocalist and Inspirational Artist of the Year.

Krissy Gordon's mission is to arouse people from spiritual slumber and complacency and provoke them to deep dig within their souls and to seek the meaning and purpose of their lives. "We can live in the world but not be part of it. This is a journey not a destination. We can choose to go along for the ride or we can take a stand and pursue the things of God that He has pre-ordained and God that He has pre-ordained and pre-destined for each of us.”
